

Tina Washington

TY Washington is a 30+ veteran in the fashion & design business. She owns her own shop where she does alterations & custom work of all kinds to include flipping clothes from one design to another. She also teaches the art of sewing from beginners to people in the business. She's a wife, mother and has a fur baby.

TY is currently the Director of Texas Region for Above The Clouds, a free faith-based art education program for children between the ages of 5 - 17. She also serves on the board of Dawn's Lighthouse and William McDonald YMCA of Ft. Worth. TY has dedicated her life to working with those incarcerated and formerly incarcerated with Discipleship Unlimited Ministries as a volunteer. As a member and clergy on staff of Antioch Fellowship Missionary Baptist Church, TY serves where she is needed.

Outside of having the love of writing and sharing her craft with others, she mentors and stays involved in women support groups that advocate for great causes. TY is also a published author that travels doing motivational speaking, sharing her personal testimony. She is one who can creatively take a subject and build a helpful and encouraging story that can either bring tears of joy or provoke you to take action. From sewing fabrics to sowing in the lives of others through her writings, TY is one watch for the reaping!
